

W. Hurley, chief engineer of the city sprinkling service, reports that as plans perfected—or on the way which he will be able to put in on the sprinkling apparatus on the plateaus of the city, frequently named South hill, North hill, on Monday next. That's his opinion now, at least.

A lantern lecture on "Rural England" will be given tomorrow evening at Ascension church at 7:45. Many beautiful scenes will be shown of places famous in history or literature, including the scenery along the Thames, and the Lake District which is associated with the poet Wordsworth. They are cordially invited to attend.

The Pine Poker at Pine City says: In the case of Jas. E. McGrath vs. Les Trippler, pending before Justice Atkinson, the plaintiff recovered judgment against the defendant by a verdict last Tuesday, defendant notwithstanding. The action was brought to determine the value of logs belonging to the plaintiff and alleged to have been taken from the defendant.

He first met Judge F. M. Crosby in the district court in a hall over Martin McGraw's store in Pine City, in 1878.

His first meeting was the beginning of an acquaintance and friendship which has become one of the treasures of his life. The judge, aside from his legal ability as an eminent jurist, possesses a remarkable personality as a man.

His acquaintances were all his friends, who will miss him with regret when the time rolls around for holding court. It is the hope of all that he be permitted to wind up his useful career as a jurist and that he voluntarily lays down the gavel. As The Post says, so say we of us.—Rush City Post.

Twenty years ago in Duluth Herald: The same man who, a short time ago, was at St. Paul selling lots in South Dakota for the cost of the abstract, is now taking in Minneapolis. A man from the Flour City who purchased a tract was here today. He got an abstract, a deed and a plat of South Dakota for $50 and $320 was put in the deed in consideration. The land is located at fifteen to twenty miles from Duluth and is worth about $5 an acre. The person who sold the lot represented

Folsom fleet departed this afternoon for her first towing trip. She took a half raft of lumber for the Seipple Lumber company and a raft and a half of logs for the Standard Lumber company, both of Dubuque, Iowa.

AN OLD TIMER.

Hastings Gazette: Edward Welch of this city rounded up a residence of fifty-three years in Minnesota last Friday. He first settled in Little Canada, Ramsey County, then went to Stillwater, then to Woodbury, then to Shakopee, and from there to Cottage Grove, coming here in 1903. Although seventy-seven years of age, he is still quite hale and hearty.

REVISE RURAL ROUTES

Dissatisfaction In Washington County Will Result In New Routes.

Washington, D. C., April 26.—Rural routes in Washington county, Minnesota, are to receive a shaking up. It is alleged that there is dissatisfaction with the present service under the schedules put in by the postal inspector. Accordingly Congressman Fred C. Stevens of St. Paul, has taken the matter up with the result that the entire county system will be overhauled and some needed changes made.

It isn't so much dissatisfaction with the present routes as the changes that are recommended by the postal inspector. That's what the people are objecting to.

Son—"What did Julius Caesar do for?"

Papa—"Shure, I didn't know the poor man was sick at all, at all."

New Arrival—"Is my wife in there?"

St. Peter—"Yes. What are you doing now?"

New Arrival—"Merely removing my shoes before going up stairs."
