Generation No. 5

5. RANDOLPH⁵ HALL (NATHAN⁴, JOHN³, JOHN², THOMAS¹) was born About 1759 in Brunswick Co., VA¹, and died Jun 01, 1821 in Sugar Creek, Garrard Co., KY¹. He married SARAH J. WOODSON Apr 28, 1784 in Franklin Co., VA, daughter of SHADRACK WOODSON and SUSANNAH WALKER. She was born About 1768 in Buckingham, VA, and died Dec 1832 in Sugar Creek, Garrard Co., KY¹.

Notes for RANDOLPH HALL:

from "History of Kentucky Baptist," by J. H. Spencer, p. 34:

"He was a good solid preacher, of a warm, impressive address and exercised an extensive influence within the bounds of the South District Association, of which he was moderator for many years. He was instrumental in gathering Sugar Creek Church in Gerrard County in 1801, to which, and to Stony Point in Mercer County, he preached for a number of years. He was no less distinguished for piety than for his faithful and successful labors."

From "History of Garrard County Kentucky and its Churches" by Forrest Calico, 1947

"Randolph Hall came from Franklin County, Virginia. He was a veteran of the Revolution either as a soldier or chaplain or both. Just when he came is not known, but it is certain that he came somewhere near the close of this war for all authorities agree that he was the first pastor at the Forks of Dick's River Baptist Church which was first constituted in 1782. He was, Spencer says, "A good solid preacher of warm address and had a large influence in this region very early." He was moderator of the South District Association for a number of years, and a close friend of James Thompson, the first surveyor of Lincoln County, who lived near Old Sugar Creek Meetinghouse and gave the site which he reserved in 1818 for the Baptist Society. Randolph Hall, about 1798, was collector of the tax for the town district and James Thompson was his bondsman. Hall performed hundreds of marriages in this region and dozens were given as a Christian name Randolph or Hall. The writers' own great-grandfather was married by him and named for him, and it is almost certain he was a grandson or nephew of Randolph Hall. His name was Randolph Stormes. He married Catherine Hardin. Randolph Hall was instrumental in regathering Old Sugar Creek Church about 1800. It had been organized first in 1792, most probably by Moses Dooley and James Thompson and ten others. Hall died in 1821 of a paralytic stroke after having lived about seventy years. His was a long and very useful life. A son Nathan became a very prominent Presbyterian minister. His biography will be found in the history of that church in this volume. A daughter married a minister named John Holland, a man of great promise but died early. One daughter married Royal Bettis, of the family of that name in this county. Under his preaching the second and third pastors of the Fork Church embraced his profession. John S. Higgins succeeded him followed by Burdette Kemper, who had married the daughter of his friend James Thompson. Her name was Jemima."

(Signed) Randolph Hall

In 1783 he removed to Garrard County, Kentucky, where he became pastor of the newly formed Forks of Dix River Baptist Church. He was taxed there in 1797, for "100 acres on Sugar Creek, 1 black, 3 horses." For a time he was back in Henry Co., VA, then in Stokes Co., NC, and finally returned to Garrard Co.,

KY, where he spent the remainder of his life.

Rev. Randolph Hall took an active part in the Revolution, along with his father, Rev. Nathan Hall, but whether as chaplain or soldier or both is not clearly known.
