

My
"Bloody Harlan County"
Relatives and Others

All 2500 of them

Foreword

In the Army, it was "Forward march", and in my "Forward", it was "Forward March into a brick wall", most of the time. Without Alene's inquiries into the Lankford and Hall families, (She thought I knew all of them), I would never have started to "Look up my Bloody Harlan kinfolk". There were times that I would think that my ancestors did not want anyone to find them, or they were illiterate in the writing department. One year they were there and the next year, they were over there, on the other side of the mountain. Some of the "Bloody Harlan County" feuds killed them. Then came the "Sons of the American Revolution". Proof of your relationship, was required. And then, the book by John Egerton, "Generation, an American Family" had been written about my ancestors. And the un encouragement of my relatives not to write about their misdeeds, I had to put it down for my grandchildren to read. Trying to find someone you don't know, nor never heard of, is a great experience. But, I found out that I'm related to everyone in Harlan County, Kentucky. Lankford, Langford, Posey, Hall, Noe, Clem, Brittain, Grubbs, Napier, Thomas, Turner, Middleton, Gilbert, Presley, Smith and Jones, Carters of Kentucky, Tennessee and Virginia. And David Chadwell, of Virginia-Tennessee, who may have started all of this. If the last name matches, and your ancestors were in Kentucky, Tennessee, North and South Carolina, Georgia, Texas, Illinois or Virginia, we're related. My Kinfolk started out in Virginia, went to North Carolina or Georgia, came to Tennessee, crossed the mountain to Cranks Creek of the Martin Fork of the Cumberland River, and got stuck there for generations to come. Over 205 years of time, before most left Harlan County. Some of them are of Indian and Negro. So color doesn't matter and isn't mentioned, except when needed. The former settlement at Cranks Creek, post office of "Ledford", Harlan County, Kentucky, were of ex-slaves of Aley Ledford. Back hair, brown eyes and fair skin. Some had blue eyes and light kinked hair. My Grandmother "Nannie Ledford", may have been one of them. My mother said she, "Nannie", was part Indian. Long wavy black hair with dark brown eyes. Both mother and daughter. Most of the names and recollections were passed down the generations by words and stories. Some of my findings are inserted with their names. I almost started another feud, when I told the Langford side, that it was spelled Lankford. And about the Shootings and Murders committed by my dad and brothers. Some Court records have vanished. But some are in the Kentucky Library & Archives at Frankfort, Kentucky. And Claiborne County, Tennessee, Court House. Even great-great- great- grandma, Susannah (Chadwell) Posey - O.Daniel had several days in COURT, for being a "Bad Girl", 1814.

Notes for Carlo Brittain Hall:

Martins Fork, of the Cumberland River, Harlan County, Kentucky, was a Post Office, before 1856. The name was changed to Friendship, in 1856. Friendship can no longer be found. Might be Grays Knob, since, this is where all the Halls were born. Or, it could be, Smith, Harlan Co., Ky., since Washington Smith was the Postmaster of Friendship, in 1856. Smith, Harlan County, Kentucky, may not exist, now. Smith was a coal mining town, and now lies in or near the lake that was built.

1900 Census of Harlan County, Kentucky, listed: Lankford, Robert E, 36 (m 19 yrs); Elizabeth 36 (7-5); Isom 19; John 14; Louisa 12; Nancy B. 7; Finley 4; Benjamin R. Noe 26 (boarder)(wd).. 1910 Census of Harlan Co., Ky., has John H. Nolan 38 (m2)(m 3yrs); Bettie A. 41 (m2)(7-6); Steve 12; Mavis Lankford 7 (stepdaughter). There is one child of Elizabeth, that I don't know about. This puts Bets-Ann,(my grandmother, Elizabeth Hall) born: 1864 or 1869. When I lived with her, at the Nolan Hotel, she was 77, before mother died, Eulah Margaret (Clem) Lankford, 12 March 1941. So, I will go with her Tombstone (Elizabeth Ann Nolan) date of 1863. I don't know of the child listed 1900 (7-5), and 1910 (7-6). One of her children must have died very young. Isom Lankford or Langford, left Harlan, and went to California, in the 1910's, or 1920's. I don't remember Grandma Nolen nor the children ever mentioning him, until after my fathers death. Everyone ask me what happened to him.
