Genealogy is Hereditary

WELCOME

Hello Everyone;

Welcome to the Spring 2010 issue of the  $\mathcal{D}$  ellinger, Knecht, Pfeffer, Silar (DKPS) family newsletter. I've included you on my mailing list because you are someone who shares a common interest of searching for information on the surnames associated with my paternal family line. I hope that some of the topics addressed within this newsletter will assist you with your genealogical endeavors.

This issue's Feature Article discusses the Born, Bracher, Keller, Schaffer, and Schatto families that have been traced back to towns now located within that part of Germany currently known as the federal state of Rhineland-Palatinate.

News of Interest to the Family Historian contains links to worthwhile FREE websites for Immigration Researchers.

A quarterly accounting of the DKPS Database at the RootsWeb WorldConnect Project indicates the addition of 24 new individual records.

Take time to look at the new and revised web pages and image galleries recently uploaded to the Maternal and Paternal Ancestors Website at RootsWeb's Freepages. Included here are pages containing worthwhile information about individual surnames, and ancestral locations, as well as special topics such as military units, our genealogy reference book library, and historic American roads and trails.

You are reminded to check out the Research Connections to see if anyone else is researching your family or a similar surname.

The BECK surname is featured in the Surname Search section. "Surname Search" displays matches of a surname in our database to the huge resources found at RootsWeb.com.

As always I will attempt to keep the newsletter brief but informative and hope you will enjoy reading it. If you do not wish to remain on the mailing list please let me know and I will stop sending it to you. To read my previous newsletters, see the link in the Contact Information section of this issue.

Several of my direct ancestors notably the BLAU, BORN, BRACHER, FORSTER, ILGES, KELLER, SCHAFFER, and SCHATTO families have been traced back to towns now located within that part of Germany currently known as the federal state of Rhineland-Palatinate Rheinland-Pfalz. Established in 1946 Rhineland-Palatinate was formed out of parts of Bavaria known as the Rhenish Palatinate, the southern portion of the Prussian Rhine Province, parts of the Prussian Province of Nassau; and sections of Hesse-Darmstadt. Situated in western Germany, Rhineland-Palatinate borders (from the north and clockwise) North Rhine-Westphalia. Hesse. Baden-Württemberg. France. Saarland, Luxembourg and Belgium.

Rhineland-Palatinate has supplied immigrants to many parts of the world. The names of the villages of New Paltz, Palatine Bridge and German Flatts, New York and Palatine, Illinois attest to settlements of Palatine Germans. The Pennsylvania Dutch spoken by the Amish people in the United States is (among other dialects) derived from the German dialect spoken in the Rhineland-Palatinate, which many Palatine refugees brought to the colony in the early decades of the 1700s. Among those Pennsylvania immigrants were my ancestors Elizabeth BRACHER Anna Maria and Paulus SCHAFFER, Sr. who come to America in 1738, as well as Anna Maria SCHATTO (CHATEAU) and Anthony KELLER who arrived in Philadelphia in 1740.

The story of the aforementioned families from the Rhineland-Palatinate and why they came to America centers around the religious and resulting economic strife that was pervasive through out the region during the 17th and 18th centuries. Previously an entirely Catholic region, the Palatinate accepted Calvinism under Elector Friedrich III during the 1560's. Elector Friedrich V's acceptance of Bohemia's offer of its crown touched off in 1618 the Thirty Years War, a complicated catastrophe from which the Palatinate never really recovered. During these times, a weakened Palatinate was no match for France under Sun king Louis XIV, whose forces ravaged the region. In fact, there was so much international concern over growing French domination, that Britain led a coalition of powers to oppose her. These struggles became known as the War of the Palatinate (or the War of the Grand Alliance or War of the League of Augsburg, 1688-1697). One major effect was large scale emigration from 1689 to 1697, and later, giving rise, for example, in the United States to the phenomenon of the Pennsylvania Dutch.

The Palatine Gamp at Deptford

A major economic factor for these families to consider leaving there homes was a major freeze in the winter of 1708/09 in the Palatinate. On 10 January 1709 the Rhine River froze and was closed for five weeks. Wine froze into ice. Grapevines died. Cattle died in their sheds. Many Palatines traveled down the Rhine to Rotterdam in late February and March. In Rotterdam they were housed in shacks covered with reeds. The ones who made it to London were housed in 1,600 tents surrounding the city. Londoners were resentful. Other Palatines were sent to other places, such as Ireland, the Scilly Isles, the West Indies, and New York.

Anne, the Queen of England, was related to the ruler of the Palatinate. On 24 March 1709 a British naturalization act was passed whereby any foreigner who would take the oaths to the British government and profess himself a Protestant would be immediately naturalized and have all the privileges of an English-born subject for one shilling. The first wave of German immigrants brought mostly German Quakers; Mennonites; Baptist Brethren, or Dunkers; and other small sects. A second wave after 1730 consisted largely of Lutherans and Calvinists. Among these individuals were many of our direct ancestors whose lives are described herein.

Since at least the late 1600's, and more than likely well before, the KELLER and SCHAFFER families had lived in that area of the Rhineland-Palatinate now know as Bad Kreuznach The region around Bad Kreuznach is full of medieval castles, especially along the Nahe River. The best known is the "Kyrburg of Kirn", built in the 12th century and sitting in state above the river which enters the territory in the west, runs through Kirn, Bad Sobernheim and Bad Kreuznach, and leaves to the northeast. It appears that Anthony Keller and Paulus Schaffer, the progenitors of both families in American, lived in or near the village of Lettweiler which at the time was quite small with few inhabitants. Lettweiler was first mentioned in an 1190 document as "Litwilre" a fiefdom belonging to the Archbishop of Mainz. In 1675 only four families lived in Lettweiler and by 1770, only 51 church people and 5 tenants were counted. Henrich and Anna (LEYONBERGER) SCHAFFER are known to have lived at Lettweiler as early as 1688. Their son Paulus was born at Lettweiler around 1693. Paulus may have left Lettweiler as a young man and moved to the area around the capital city of Zweibrücken. In 1713 he married Anna Maria Elizabeth BRACHER a native of Hornbach a village located about 6 miles south of the capital.

Ancestral Locations within the Rhineland-Palatinate

By the later decades of the 17th century the Dukes of Zweibrücken had ensured that the region was aligned with the Protestant church. As a result, the French Hugenot Chateau family left the Catholic area around Avignon, France where they suffered persecution and moved to Bad Kreuznach around 1715. Thus the family name was Germanized to SCHATTO. In 1730 Anthony Keller and Anna Barbara CHATEAU (SCHATTO) were married at Meisenheim, located 6 miles from Lettweiler. The town was probably founded in the 7th century and first mentioned in documents of 1154. To this union at least eight known children were born three of them at Lettweiler. In 1740 Anthony KELLER and his family left Germany and sailed for American on the ship "Loyal Judith" and arrived at Philadelphia, Pennsylvania in November of that year.

The BLAU, BORN, BRACHER, FORSTER, and ILGES families lived in that area of the Rhineland-Palatinate now located within the district of Sudwestpflaz. The district was created in 1818 as the Landkommisariat Pirmasens. After almost 200 years and several boundary changes it was renamed Südwestpfalz in 1997. The BORN, BRACHER and FORSTER families lived near Hornbach and the BLAU, ILGES families were associated with the community of Thaleischweiler. Hornbach is situated southwest of the Palatinate forest, on the border with France, south of Zweibrücken. The history of the community of Hornbach is entwined with that of the monastery that was located there in 742 AD. Georg BRACHER, was probably born here around 1650 as was his son Johann George BRACHER in 1676. In 1693 Johann George married Susanna Margaretta Forster BORN the daughter of Theodor BORN and Kunigunda FORSTER who was born at Hornbach about 1652. Johann George and Susanna Margaretta had at least 14 known children 7 of which were born at Hornbach between 1694 and 1703. The Bracher family moved to nearby Rimschweiler around 1704.

Thaleischweiler is first mentioned in 1237 by the name Eiswilre. At that time it was under the rule of the Count of Leiningen. Apparently Thaleischweiler was already a community as early as the Frankish Empire, which controlled the area between the 3rd to 10th centuries, when it was located within the southernmost part of the Kaiserslautern within the diocese of Worms. This area also included the current villages of Gemarkungen, Thaleischweiler, Thal- and Höhfröschen, and Höheinöd. Together with Herschberg these towns formed the parish of Thaleischweiler which is still in existence today. Johann Paul ILGES was born at Thaleischweiler around 1706. He first married a local woman named Anna Margaretha with whom he produced 5 known off-spring. In 1745 he married a second time to Maria Catharina BLAU, daughter of Nicolas BLAU, and also native of Thaleischweiler. Four children were born of this union two of whom were born at Thaleischweiler between 1745 and 1747. In 1750 Johann Paul and Maria Catharina left Thaleischweiler and sailed to America with five children aged 3 to 19 years old.

The BORN, BRACHER, and SCHAFFER, families lived in that part of the Rhineland-Palatinate urban district of Zweibrücken. In 1410 the city became the seat of the counts (later dukes) of Zweibrücken. The duchy of Zweibrücken was annexed in 1797 to France. It was later restored to Bavaria at the Congress of Vienna in 1815, and since then has shared the history of the Rhenish Palatinate. Zweibrücken was virtually demolished in World War II but has since been reconstructed. It is believed that that the SCHAFFER family lived in the old city section of Zweibrücken during the early decades of the 18th century. The family of Johann George BRACHER and Susanna Margaretta Forster BORN are associated with the suburban village of Rimschweiler. Rimschweiler first found in records around 1200 as Rimeswilre. Documents of 1298 also identify the hamlet as Heidelbingerhof. Through out history it has always been a part of Zweibrücken.

It appears that Susanna Margaretta BORN was a native of Rimschweiler having been born there in 1672. Susanna married Johann George BRACHER of their 14 children 7 appear to have been born at Rimschweiler between 1705 and 1715.

The SCHAFFER family had been living near Zweibrücken since before the 1713 marriage between Paulus SCHAFFER, Sr. and Anna Maria Elizabeth BRACHER, daughter of the aforementioned Johann George BRACHER. Their son Paul SCHAFFER, Jr. was born at Zweibrücken in 1721. Paulus Sr. and Anna Maria Elizabeth SCHAFFER, along with their children, left Zweibrucken in 1738 and sailed to America aboard the ship "Thistle".

NEWS OF INTEREST TO THE FAMILY HISTORIAN

Some "Good News" submitted by our Readers

One of our readers has written a book entitled, "The Heffner Family of York County, PA and Associated Families." The book was written in 2002 by June R. Grove of Dover, Pennsylvania. It contains genealogical information about the following families: Lutz, Tome, Dettinger, Eveler, Mundorf, Burkholder, Millers of Codorus Township, Reber, Stambach, Flaharty, Curran, Frey, Heffner, Wales, Wilson, Douglas, Hanna, Shaull, Thompson, Shoff; as well as the Peter Smith family that descends from Zeller, McCleary, and includes Wiley, Brown, Levi Smith, Plantholt, Fahringer, Kinard, Gohn, McLaughlin, Kohlbus, and many other surnames.

The book is hard-bound with gold lettering and measures 8 1/2 X 11. It has 291 typed pages plus 89 full pages of photos and documentation. Some of the typed pages also have small photos on them. The cost is $30 plus shipping and packaging. For more information contact June, at 717-292-2133, <rnklbrogue@yahoo.com>. If you have any research tips, recipes, photographs, web links, news articles, maps, etc. that you would like to share with our readers please feel free to send them to me at silrem@comcast.net.

Best FREE Web-sites for Immigration Researchers

Overwhelmed by the number of family historyrelated Web sites popping up? The folks at FamilyTreeMagazine <http://tinyurl.com/re5ryu> have taken the time to sort through them to bring us the best. As a result they have recently identified the following worthwhile websites:

Immigrant Ships Transcribers Guild

< http://www.immigrantships.net/ >

Strike out at the big databases of New York arrivals? This guild of volunteers has tirelessly transcribed more than 8,000 passenger manifests, many from less famous ports, which you can search by surname, captain's name, port of arrival or departure, and ship name. TheShipsList <http://www.theshipslist.com/>

Another passenger-list site, boasting more than 2,000 pages of information, TheShipsList also stands out for its images of ships, ports, immigration stations and steamship-line ads.

Castle Garden <http://castlegarden.org/>

If you ancestors arrived in New York before Ellis Island opened in 1892, turn to this database on 10 million immigrants who entered through Castle Garden, beginning in 1830.

Ellis Island <http://ellisisland.org/>

Search for later arrivals through the Port of New York, from 1892 to 1924, in this database of 22.5 million passenger records.

EDITOR'S NOTE: If you have any ideas, and or information you might have regarding ways to enhance our researching experiences. Send them to me at silrem@comcast.net.

24 New Records Added To the Database at Rootsweb More persons added to the database at Ancestry.com

Our Siler-Pfeffer Family Line database at Ancestry. Com currently contains the records of 2,079 persons. The database can be viewed by all Ancestry subscribers. This tree will change every three months as we edit, remove, or otherwise modify the data therein.

An updated version of our DKPS Database was recently uploaded to the, open to all, World Connect site at RootsWeb.com. 24 new records have been added over the past three months. We now have information on 1,867 persons. Since we update the database quarterly to coincide with the publishing of this newsletter our readers are all reminded to take a look at what is new with our family history research. If you do check out the website you may find some new information that will enhance your own research or you may find some errors in ours that we need to know of.

The Database at Roots.web free for all to use. It is located at: http://tinyurl.com/4z3ky6. You may also access our family tree by going to: http://worldconnect.rootsweb.com/.

The Database at Ancestry.com can only be accessed by subscribers. It is located at the Home Page http://www.ancestry.com/ in the "Search" pull-down button under "Public Member Trees".

Please know that we would always welcome any new information that you may have on our common ancestors.

WHAT'S NEW AT THE WEBSITE ?? Our Maternal and Paternal Ancestors: 350 Years of History in America

The New Jersey Reference Book Collection Now has over 400 Volumes New Revolutionary War Ancestors Identified

Because we usually update this site several times between the publishing of this Newsletter you are reminded and encouraged to periodically review what is new with regard to the family information and genealogical resources contained at our internet web site entitled, Our Maternal & Paternal Ancestors 350 Years of History in America: An Archive of Genealogical Information, at the following link: http://tinyurl.com/3lbrly.

Over the past three months one new source document has been uploaded to the DKPS Subsite. The DKPS War Veterans page has been updated and now includes more information on ancestors who are recognized as Patriots of the American Revolutionary War.

15 new or revised web pages have been created and added at to our Ancestral Locations sub-site. With the addition of 10 new County webpages we are well on our way to completing county pages identified as containing locations where our direct ancestors were born, married, or died. "Image Galleries" have been created for each of the ten aforementioned pages.

The scope and volume of the various sub-sites created for our Special Topics continued to increase since the last issue of this newsletter. If you're currently researching ancestors in New Jersey, take a look at our Genealogy Reference Library where we've completed the creation of the New Jersey Collection. The New Jersey Counties section has 377 volumes. The State-wide section has 82 volumes on the following topics: Military, Biographies; Ethnic Groups, Geography, State History, Miscellanous Subjects, and State Records, and Religious Groups. Since the last newsletter we've added over 100 new books to the other collections. Most of these books are fully searchable and can be downloaded to your computer. In addition text may be cut & pasted directly to your family tree software or other document. Readers who have an interest in Historic American Roads And Migration Routes should take a look at the new updates and revisions at the pages, which address routes taken by pioneers to settle the Trans-Application region of Tennessee, Kentucky, and West Virginia. Our War Veterans sub-site home page has been completely revised and now has a listing of important wars, conflicts, and military events identified as integral to the history of the United States of America. Each is linked to information that will provide the researcher with additional insight regarding the key aspects of each conflict.

As with the database you may find some new information that will enhance your own research or you may want to advise of some new information that we can include at the site. Either way I would appreciate an email from you just to let me know that you've found your way to our online website.

RESEARCH CONNECTIONS

Since the first issue of this newsletter back in the Fall of 2006 its distribution list has grown significantly. Along the way I have interacted with many genealogists that have expressed an interest in one or more of the family lines contained within my DKPS Database at RootsWeb. Because networking is a key to the success of any family historian I feel that it is important for this newsletter to help in making that connection. Below is a listing of several subscribers and the common family lines they are researching.
